

Life Lessons Continued

Blog #24

“... It has been one of the happiest reflections in my entire life.”

In the spirit of finding my own Voice, Life lessons in my career climb were greatly impacted by my community work.

Coming from a family of community involved people, it was not a question as to whether I would be involved in the community, but with who.

The organizations in which I served gave me the opportunity to give back, but more important grow personally and professionally.

Well you maybe asking what can you get from volunteering... the best networking, leadership development, business development, planning, teaming with others, humility.

Volunteering in the community where I live has helped me to become more understanding of what it means to be a contributor.

“To receive one must give.”
